

Bubbles

Text von Ilse Zacharias

1. too many tears
shed for you
too many years spent waiting for you
too much belief
put into you
and too much grief
suffered from you

2. too many times
annoyed by you
too many joys
destroyed by you too many hopes
smashed by you
too many dreams
suppressed by you

Refrain:

Bubbles 'I should have known they don't stay Bubbles how lovely their colors play Bubbles are looking so light and so gay before they burst away

Bubbles I swallowed some, when I was young Bubbles they left a bad taste on my tongue Bubbles inconstant, unsteady, untrue like promises from you!

3. a handful of letters written by you
so many words
not one was true
too many lies,
those letters from you I'm burning them all and your picture too!

Refrain s.o.

Bridge:

a little more care for me a little more time for me a little more love/a bright spot in sight and things would have been allright
